

SENATE TEST TO BE ARRANGED ON RETIREMENT ACT

Bill Would Permit The Justices To Retire
On Pay

Passage in Senate Predicted; House Approves

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Senate leaders arranged tonight for a prompt test of senate sentiment on the Summers bill, which would permit supreme court justices to retire on full pay at the age of 70.

Passage is generally predicted, for numerous senators who have announced unyielding opposition to President Roosevelt's proposal for revamping the supreme court are ready to vote for the retirement bill. It already has the approval of the house.

The president has proposed that a new justice be appointed for each justice past 70 who declined to retire. The membership of the supreme court might be raised from 9 to 15 under his program. The Summers bill, introduced before the white house legislation, simply gives justices assurances that if they quit the bench they will receive full pay. At present judges who wish to leave the bench must resign and take the chance that congress will continue their salaries.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) submitted the judiciary committee's favorable report on the Summers measure might encourage the retirement of some present members of the court and thereby facilitate a compromise on the president's plan.

On high authority, it was said that a year or more ago at least two associate justices told congressional leaders that with such an act on the statute books they would withdraw from the court at an early date.

However, it is not known whether more recent developments have changed the justices' attitudes toward retirement.

Today also saw President Roosevelt in consultation with Democratic house leaders on the general legislative situation, including his court bill. They left the white house saying they would await senate developments before beginning consideration of the legislation.

Elsewhere, it was learned that this course has been urged by many members of the house. The controversy over the legislation has grown to such proportions throughout the country, and the senate is apparently so sharply divided upon it that the representatives are unwilling to take a position on the plan, while a possibility remains that it may be killed later in the senate.

Attending the white house conference today were Speaker Bankhead, Majority Leader Rayburn, Chairman Summers of the judiciary committee in charge of the court legislation, and Representative Boland, the Democratic whip.

RECIPROCAL TRADE PROGRAM ATTACKED

Washington, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Republican spokesmen in the senate launched an attack on the reciprocal trade program today, urging that it be either abandoned or its major provisions amended.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Senator Capper (R-Kan.) in the fight, charging that the reciprocity law has stimulated imports much faster than exports, has operated to the detriment of domestic producers, and is an unconstitutional invasion of congressional powers.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) defended the program as "the best way to build up trade" because it is "almost impossible" to get a "fair and equitable tariff bill" through congress.

(The reciprocal trade act provides that the president, without the consent of the senate, may make agreements with foreign nations to reduce tariffs and other trade barriers.)

Life Is In 'Twos' For Twins Loving Twins Left Behind

New York, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Walter and William Woodfin, 20, twins and Mormons, who claim to be engaged to Veda and Vida Lucas, also twins and Mormons—all this is going on in Garland, Utah—arrived here today en route to England for two years of church work.

Describing how it started when they were all attending Utah university, Walter and William explained, sort of in chorus:

"The girls are so alike that for the first year we couldn't be sure which one we were with. x x x In a way, all four of us loved each other, and we always went out together."

"But as time went little individual mannerisms developed so that now we can be fairly certain we are with the right one."

"I," said William, "love Vida, and Walter loves Veda, but in a way we all love each other. It's perfectly natural, because ever since we can remember, Walter and I have dressed alike and we have almost identical tastes."

The boys, according to custom, are going to devote two years to voluntary church service, but trust that the two status quo of things will be there when they get back.

They have twin uncles and twin cousins, and hope to live when they get married in twin houses on the same street, the way the uncles, they say, live now, and the way the cousins hope, too.

They said tomorrow, presumably on a twin-engined boat.

WARN SOVIETS TO PREPARE FOR JAP, NAZI WAR THREAT

Leaders Say There Is Plan To Invade
Russia

Moscow, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The 1,000,000-man Red army and the Soviet people were warned tonight to prepare for the "war threat" of Japan and Germany as the army's 18th anniversary was celebrated throughout far-flung Russia.

"The two countries which most threaten peace—Nazi Germany and Imperial Japan—have made no secret of their plans to attack the soviet union and seize its territory," the leading newspapers of Russia proclaimed.

"It would be foolish to imagine that Fascism and reaction have given up their plans of attack."

The same thought was echoed in thousands of speeches made to the army and in the anniversary orders of war commissar Klement E. Voroshilov, who urged the military forces to remember the enemies of peace "are viciously sharpening their swords."

Factory workers commemorated the anniversary by announcing they are spending all spare time studying military tactics and preparing to convert themselves into wartime fighters for the Soviet union.

In Khabyshev Province, 450 tractor combine operators on a collective farm said they were learning tank operation. In Moscow, 9,000 workers in one factory were said to be ready to serve as sharpshooters for Voroshilov, and the entire factory personnel was studying military training courses.

Borshilov's anniversary orders called for renewed vigilance and readiness in view of the world's increasing war threat and urged that Russia be "unflinching in advancing the military might of the Red army."

The potential might of the army, estimated already at 1,300,000 men, was increased by the gigantic defense budget. This budget allots one fourth of the 1937 national income, totaling 25,130,320,000 rubles, and was recently announced by the central executive committee.

EDWARD MAKES VISIT TO MUENSTER CASTLE

Noetsch, Austria, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor, in relief from the boredom of exile today—deep in the Karawanken mountains which all but smother this obscure South Austrian village.

On an unheralded visit to his friends, the Count and Countess Paul Muenster, Edward poked about old Muenster castle, which, some say, he would like to buy for Wallis Simpson, and played golf by the shimmering Woertheersee.

He expects to be back in Vienna in time to meet his brother and sister-in-law, the Duke and Duchess of Kent.

The villagers, all 120 of them, saw Windsor, in high spirits, when he drove up to the castle on Mount Dobratsch and peered across the hills into Italy and Yugoslavia.

They said he seemed happy to escape for a day from his lonely retreat at Ennsfeld.

RAIL WORKERS ASK BOOST OF $360,000,000

All Unions United In Demand For Wage
Increase

Delegates to Serve Formal Notice in Thirty Days

Chicago, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The nation's 1,100,000 organized railroad workers were united tonight in demanding an annual wage increase of approximately $360,000,000.

Spokesmen for the 800,000 members of the 16 "non-operating" railway brotherhoods voted today to seek a 20 per cent hike in their pay.

Representatives of the 300,000 men in the five "operating" brotherhoods recently initiated a move to obtain a raise of the same size.

Estimating about $360,000,000 in yearly income would be at stake negotiators for the brotherhoods and for the management of the carriers sit down to a parley on the demands, George M. Harrison, chairman of the current meeting, declared:

"These are the largest negotiations ever undertaken by organized railroad workers."

The delegates planned to serve formal notice on the railroads within 30 days. They drew up this list of demands:

1. A general wage increase of 20 cents an hour, applied to hourly, daily, weekly, monthly or piece rates, so as to produce the same rate of increase for all employees. Harrison said this amounted to an average raise of approximately 20 per cent.

2. A guarantee of full time employment for all regularly assigned employees.

3. A guarantee of two thirds of full employment for all "stand-by" employees.

Under the railway labor act, each road would have 30 days to file an answer.

Contending the rail lines were enjoying increasing freight and passenger revenues, Harrison stated:

"Railroad wages never have been adequate. In this industry now there are 330,000 men working for 50 cents an hour or less and 117,000 working for 75 or less."

"Railway labor simply is asking for its share of industrial recovery. If we are to hope to sustain recovery in this country we have to have a wider distribution of the benefits."

The workers took reductions totaling 10 per cent during the depression but these were made up by 1935.

House Vote Delays Governor's Bill to Re-enact Sales Tax

Horner Asks Immediate Passage, But Vote Sends Bill to Committee

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Urged by Governor Horner to re-impose the three per cent utility sales tax immediately as an emergency relief measure, the House of Representatives today delayed and sent the bill to a committee.

The result was to delay advancement of the governor's bill, which had eliminated all exemptions so as to meet the supreme court's objections to the 1935 utility tax law, ruled unconstitutional eleven days ago.

Mr. Horner in his first financing message to the 60th general assembly asked enactment of the new utility tax without delay.

"Justice and necessity require it," he said.

The House Majority Leader, Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, introduced the bill and moved that it be advanced at once to second reading.

A long and bitter debate followed, ending with a roll call that showed 61 votes for Adamowski and 54 against. Since the bill needed 77 votes, it went to the revenue committee, headed by Thomas A. Bolger of McHenry.

In the dispute, Frank Ryan of Chicago asked that his committee on public utilities be allowed to consider the bill. Most of the Republicans voted against Adamowski, with Mrs. Bernice T. Van Der Vries, Winnetka Republican, demanding that the governor submit the biennial budget, several weeks overdue, before action is taken on any revenue plan.

BLOMBERG HAS FOUR RULES FOR GERMANS

Berlin, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Marshall Von Blomberg, Germany's minister of defense, tonight gave the workers of the Reich four commandments: Loyalty, discipline, faith and "keep your mouths shut."

Marshall Von Blomberg asserted the world war situation in which soldiers won battles while labor leaders "committed high treason at home with impunity" and "misguided" workers laid down their tools must never recur.

If war ever comes again it will not be of Germany's seeking, said the marshal at the consecration of labor front banners of war ministry employees, "but peace doesn't depend on ourselves alone."

"If war is forced upon us it will exact the utmost toll from us all," he went on.

Gov. Horner Says No Progress In Fansteel Sit-Down Conference

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Governor Henry Horner, acting as mediator in the "sit down" strike at the Fansteel Metallurgical plants in North Chicago, said tonight he believed no progress had been made in separate conferences he held with company and union officials.

The governor conferred two hours tonight with representatives of the committee for industrial organization after holding a long conference this afternoon with Robert J. Aitchison, president of the company, who had steadfastly refused to meet with the union committee.

Asked if he had brought the opposing factions any closer together, the governor said, "I don't know. I don't think so."

He said neither side had given him much encouragement, and each remained adamant in its demands. He said he could not predict whether there would be some type of settlement soon.

After his conference with the CIO committee, Meyer Adelman, organizer, Joseph Jacobs, attorney for the strikers, and Thurlow G. Lewis, state counsel for the United Mine Workers of America, the governor left his statehouse offices and said he would go to the executive mansion to talk with Aitchison, H. A. Anselm, Fansteel plant superintendent, and Dr. Frank Briggs, the company's director of research.

Meanwhile, the strikers, who were spending their seventh day in the plants, made public at Waukegan a telegram they sent the governor in which they informed him the CIO committee was their official bargaining agency. They declined to send any of their number to Springfield, Aitchison had indicated he would have conferred with a committee of striking employees.

Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, who went to Waukegan soon after the strike started and tried to effect a settlement, also conferred with the CIO committee today.

The CIO representatives declined to discuss what took place at their conference with Durkin. It was believed they presented their minimum demands as a basis of negotiations.

The strikers telegram to governor Horner said:

"In accordance with the National Labor relations law, we x x x have chosen the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers as our labor union and authorized the steel workers organizing committee to be our collective bargaining agency."

"The Fansteel corporation has violated the law by refusing to deal with our representatives. Do not permit yourself to do likewise."

"We accept no settlement unless made with our representatives in harmony with the law."

The last statement indicated that unless Aitchison withdraw from his stand to meet with no CIO representative, the deadlock would remain unbroken, as no committee of strikers was in the city.

Anselm said the CIO had made a mistake in selecting the Aitchison plant for their drive, adding that the plant had been on a five day 40-hour week since the NRA.

FLAT $5

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—(AP)—A bill for a flat $5 automobile license fee was introduced today by Senator Harold G. Ward, Chicago, a spokesman for Mayor Edward Kelly.

It would fix the rate at $3 for motorcycles and $3 for automobiles registered during the second half of the year. Several other licensing reduction bills have been placed before the legislature. The house committee on highways discussed automobile drivers' licensing and responsibility bills but no action was taken.

Safety at Stations

Chicago, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Claiming the Illinois Central railroad was responsible for the safety of passengers at its stations, Mildred Huff, 28, a model, sued the road for $200,000 damages in circuit court today.

The bill alleged Miss Huff was attacked by a Negro while waiting for a train on the 39th street platform the night of Nov. 30, 1935, that her clothes were torn off and that she suffered other indignities.

Court Decision Validates Will For Winners of Toronto's Stork Derby

Toronto, Feb. 23.—(AP)—All but one of Toronto's "Stork Derby" mothers rejoiced tonight over a court decision validating a eccentric Charles Vance Millar's $500,000 bequest to the city's most prolific mother.

The sole exception was Mrs. Pauline Mae Clarke, whose claims to victory received a possible set-back when the Ontario Court of Appeals, upholding the prize, also declared illegitimate children would not be counted in the contest that ended Oct. 31, 1936, ten years after Millar's death.

Though five of Mrs. Clarke's nine offspring were born after she was separated from her husband, it was pointed out the five children were not necessarily illegitimate as Mrs. Clarke's rivals claim.

Mrs. Clarke was philosophical about the whole matter.

"It was just a gamble anyway as far as I was concerned," she said. "I realized all along I might not qualify."

Mrs. Clarke's attorney, C. R. McKeown, indicated the battle in her behalf was not ended and said he might appeal from the decision of the highest Ontario court.

"We don't admit by any means that five of these children are illegitimate," he said. Appeals might be made to the Privy Council, Supreme Court or to the Dominion Supreme Court.

But the other contending mothers welcomed the court ruling with joy unalloyed.

"That's great," exclaimed Mrs. Martin Kenny, "but I ought to get all the money."

Mrs. Kenny is the only mother in the running who has not indicated willingness to have the half-million-dollar baby fund divided among the top-ranking contenders.

INSURGENT PUSH IS HALTED NEAR MADRID SECTOR

Loyalist Troops Defying
Rebels In Bitter
Fighting

Strategic Pizarron Hill Now Held By Loyalists

Madrid, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Hard-fighting government troops were reported tonight to have captured strategic Pizarron hill in the Jarama sector, halted an insurgent drive on Viver, northeast of Valencia, and killed 1,900 men on the Guadalajara front.

Gen. Jose Miala, Madrid sector commander, himself announced the capture of Pizarron hill after a 10-hour battle in which troops fought under a canopy of steel as opposing artillerymen engaged in a day-long duel.

The hill, on whose summit the insurgents had built an elaborate system of fortifications, dominates a wide section of the Morata de Tajuna region southeast of Madrid and west of the important Madrid-Valencia highway.

Shell-battered Morata de Tajuna, 19 miles southeast of Madrid, which stands between the insurgent positions on the east bank of the Jarama river and the Madrid-Valencia highway, was the target for the insurgent cannoners.

The insurgents continued to dominate Arganda bridge nineteen miles southeast of the Spanish capital, with artillery mounted at Vaciamadrid, which lies between Madrid and Arganda.

Reports received here of an insurgent offensive directed at Viver, 34 miles northwest of Valencia on the Teruel front, said government troops had halted the advance in the neighborhood of Mora de Rubielos.

(Mora de Rubielos is about 20 miles north of Viver.)

Government defense forces, the reports said, seeing a possible threat, Viver, had tightened their defenses and a squadron of government planes was sent to bomb the enemy concentrations in an effort to disorganize the offensive while the defending troops consolidated their own positions.

(Viver is on a main highway to Sagunto. At Sagunto, the highway points a coastal highway which connects Valencia and Barcelona.)

Government sources also reported their troops had won an important engagement at Abanades, on the Guadalajara front, approximately 30 miles northeast of Brihuega.

A returned government official said the insurgents lost 1,000 men when militiamen surprised a concentration which was preparing to attack Torre de Sabiniego, Abanades and Sacedo along the right bank of the Tajuna river.

It was the wounding of the hard-bitten Graziani, hero of the southern phase of Ethiopian conquest a year ago, that spurred Benito Mussolini's orders to make reprisals "more demonstrative than is required by ordinary justice."

Death now takes the place of gifts for those former subjects of the Negus who resist Italian rule.

Today the Ethiopians still under arrest could hear the volleys of the firing squads, working with hot rifles at the edge of Addis Ababa.

All Clues Lead to Union Troubles in 'Sand-hog' Slaying

Believe R. Norman Redwood
Victim of New York
Labor War

Hackensack, N. J., Feb. 23.—(AP)—New clues uncovered in the search for the slayers of R. Norman Redwood, "Sandhogs" union leader, all "led into New York's labor troubles," Bergen County Prosecutor John J. Breslin, Jr., said tonight.

Returning from a New York conference with Mayor F. H. La Guardia, Breslin said he was awaiting the outcome of two further developments in New York.

At the West 20th street police station four men were questioned about a statement Breslin said was made by "two of the state's main witnesses."

On February 13, Breslin said, these witnesses were conversing with Samuel Rosoff, millionaire subway builder, when Rosoff pointed to four men in a car nearby and said:

"If you don't be nice, these men are the ones who will take care of you."

The men questioned tonight were produced by Rosoff and his son, Stanley. Rosoff said two of them were chauffeurs and two were men who had applied for jobs on one of his projects.

At a hearing before common pleas Judge A. Demore Delmar on the question of fixing Breslin's bail, Breslin said the car the four men were sitting in was Friedman's.

Judge Delmar took under advisement a request by Samuel Denison, Friedman's counsel, that bail of $500 be set.

Breslin conferred with La Guardia on a request New York let an inspector and five detectives to John Bergen county and Teaneck authorities in setting up a special bureau to investigate the crime.

A hearing on a writ for the removal of Rosoff to New Jersey for questioning was adjourned until Friday.

RAIL CRASH

Chicago, Feb. 23.—(AP)—A spokesman for the Illinois Central railroad said tonight an investigation had been launched to determine what caused the derailment of one of its Chicago-bound passenger trains near Edgewood, Ill., late today.

Canadian Comes to See His Girl; Sent To Prison Instead

St. Paul, Feb. 23.—(AP)—From up where the north begins came Edward Herman Kasser to see his girl, but all he saw was jail.

Today, he drew the shortest sentence—48 hours—given out in United States District Court in St. Paul in the past two years. The charge was illegal entry into the United States.

From his farm near Shellbrook, Sask., 28 miles beyond the end of survey lines in northern Canada, the 26-year-old swain set out for Chicago to visit his girl, a former Canadian neighbor.

At the border, however, he was barred because he didn't have enough money. Whereupon, Edward walked fourteen miles into Minnesota and froze his face, only to have officers catch him.

The court sentenced him and ordered him back to Canada—without seeing his girl, whose name was not disclosed.

RIFLE SQUAD IN ETHIOPIA WARNS ALL OPPOSITION

More Than Hundred Are Executed For Resistance

Addis Ababa, Feb. 23.—(AP)—The monotonous crackle of a firing squad's rifles was heard today as hundreds of men were executed for resistance.

The wounded viceroys of Italy's reborn Roman Empire, Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, followed to the grim letter II Duce's order to wipe out opposition to Italian rule. Scores of quaking black men, found with weapons about their persons or in their dingy, grass tufts, or huts, were marched to the edge of Addis Ababa—to swift death.

Thus were uncompromising former subjects of Haile Selassie, once proud of Judah, "liquidated" following a sudden burst of deadly hostility late Friday. Then, Marshal Graziani and other members of his vice-regal suite were wounded by hand grenades from a band of natives, approaching as if to receive gifts.

Exactly how many Ethiopians were shot today was hidden in the vagueness of an official communique, which said merely that all those found to possess weapons had been summarily executed.

Unofficially, it was estimated the dead already numbered more than 100. Of the 2,000 soldiers rounded up by police and royal Carabinieri since the Friday bombing, "some hundreds" were said cryptically to have proved their innocence and won their freedom. The others, it was stated, were under "examination."

It was the wounding of the hard-bitten Graziani, hero of the southern phase of Ethiopian conquest a year ago, that spurred Benito Mussolini's orders to make reprisals "more demonstrative than is required by ordinary justice."

Death now takes the place of gifts for those former subjects of the Negus who resist Italian rule.

Today the Ethiopians still under arrest could hear the volleys of the firing squads, working with hot rifles at the edge of Addis Ababa.

Cool Headedness

It seems almost impossible that a bus carrying more than 20 persons could plunge down a 30 foot embankment and land in a creek, without some of them being killed or badly injured. But that is exactly what happened between Jacksonville and Virginia early Sunday morning.

Passengers, including a number of women, were hurled from their seats, and when the big vehicle came to a stop it was partly submerged by creek water. A wild scene of disorder could have followed—panic had resulted when far less provoked. But such was not the case in this accident.

There were some cool heads in the bus. We do not know what was said during the first few seconds after the bus landed in the creek, but whatever it was, there was nothing to instill fear in the hearts of the passengers. It appears that there was considerably more action than words. Several members of the Illinois National Guard were aboard the bus. Their presence undoubtedly had something to do with the admirable conduct of the party, and the one hundred per cent rescue of the victims.

These men, residents of Peoria, were good soldiers. They took immediate command of the situation. Other passengers looked to them to lead the group out of danger, and they did.

The driver of the bus also is to be commended for his coolness. No one was terror-stricken or hysterical. The passengers, themselves, displayed marked bravery in the face of a situation that could have resulted far more seriously.

No doubt the durable construction of the bus protected the occupants. But it was largely the admirable way in which the emergency was handled that all of the persons escaped serious injury.

If a few capable, cool-headed men were on hand in all emergencies, the death lists from fires, train wrecks, bus wrecks and other disasters would be greatly reduced. Strong men are an inspiration to the weak and helpless. They can prevent panic, at the same time removing victims from danger.

Panic never saved a group of persons from danger. Remember this if you are ever in a tight spot. Remember, cool thinking and effective action are needed. You may be the means of saving lives of others, and your own, in a time of stress.

The bus wreck near Jacksonville was an excellent example of where everyone "kept their heads." And none of them are in hospitals today.

The Moving Season

The country and suburban correspondents of the Journal and Courier are beginning to report the fact that the Jones family has moved to the farm vacated by the Smiths, and the Browns have taken up abode on the property where the Jones formerly resided.

Only, we used fictitious names, as far as we know. The Jones, Smith and Brown families may be moving, but along with them go hundreds of families of other names. As March 1 is the accepted time for making "changes," particularly on the farms, there is much activity in this line just now.

New leases are being signed; new rental agreements made by owner and tenant; plans completed for a busy season on the farm, looking forward to the planting season.

There is nothing unusual about the moving season. It is natural, arriving every year about the same time. Families who have resided for a year or longer on a particular farm, get the idea they can "do better" somewhere else. Thus we see families leaving farms and others moving in, all in good faith that the change will prove beneficial.

There is real news, too, in those small items about families changing residence. Everyone in the neighborhood is interested, usually sorry, when a family decides to locate elsewhere. The neighborhood is as equally interested in who their new neighbors will be.

Considerably activity in the transfer of ownership in farm lands also is taking place this winter, as we enter the portals of spring. There seems to be a brisker demand for farm lands, which usually is the forerunner of better times in agriculture.

So for the next month or two we'll watch these records of removals. We want to know where our neighbors are going. We want to know who is going to take their places.

The world cannot stand still, even in the most isolated spots. Many of our farming communities may remain about the same in appearance, but the people change. It is indeed a remarkable neighborhood that does not have a few farewell parties each year for departing families, and that does not get acquainted with new residents.

Rotary's Birthday

This week marks the 32nd anniversary of the founding of Rotary clubs. The first of such clubs was formed in Chicago on a most unpretentious occasion in 1905. Just a group of business men met at a luncheon and talked over their common problems. Paul F. Harris and Sylvester Schiele, two members of the group, suggested that the same men meet again in another week for the same purpose. They did, and the second week's meeting was followed by others, and still others.

Thus was born an organization which is now represented by 4,004 Rotary clubs located in 75 different countries of the world. The international conventions of the organization bring together more than 10,000 delegates each year, and the Rotary movement is accepted as one of the greatest non-political organizations in the world.

It is composed of no government agents from any of the countries. The delegations come from every walk of life, and the discussions arise from experiences and opinions formed in the everyday work of the world as seen from every class of men, employers and employees, financial leaders and labor leaders, business and professional men, teachers and clergymen.

In Chicago a great celebration of the founding of Rotary was held Monday night with Harris and Schiele as co-founders honored by a gathering of 1,000 men at a banquet at which Will R. Manier, international president, presided.

Jacksonville has been the home of one of the units of the Rotary movement since May, 1918, when the local club was formally organized. The membership has seen many changes through the years, but a number of the charter members are still active.

Weekly luncheon meetings are held, the club taking an active interest and a helpful attitude toward every worthwhile civic enterprise. The Rotary club house at Meredosa for boys and girls organizations is but one of the monuments the club has erected in its continuous efforts to promote wholesome environment for young people, and foster good citizenship.

When the Red Cross appealed for flood relief funds only a short time ago, Rotarians responded with usual liberality. Similar substantial support has been given by the club to many local enterprises over a score of years.

In Jacksonville and elsewhere, the international motto of Rotary is exemplified in numerous ways: "He profits most who serves best."

"No Children"

"No Children" is a sign often posted on apartments for rent in the cities, or inserted in advertisements which invite occupants for vacant properties. "What have the children done, to deserve this boycott?", some might ask. But it isn't what they have done, but what they might do, that prompts property owners and agents to take such precautions.

Landlords who thus put a ban on the use of their property for couples with children are, of course, within their legal rights, and usually explain their policy by saying that they are simply acting in self defense against undue damage done to their property when rented to families with children. How far this explanation will hold good is a debatable question.

In Iowa, one of the members of the legislature proposes to put a stop to the policy of landlords refusing to rent to parents of children. This legislator, named Latchaw, whose home is at Wilton Junction, has presented a bill to the legislature which makes it an offense against the law if any landlord refuses to rent to tenants with children, or from increasing the rent because of children.

The preamble to the Latchaw bill sets out that "the welfare of the state depends upon children having the opportunity to live in desirable homes." The disposition of the Iowa house toward this bill is not known, but it gives the members something to think about.

Senators Speak Out

Statements by two Democratic Senators during the past few days have convinced us that there is a greater hope that one of the legislative branches of government is emerging from executive submission and asserting individual opinions worthy of careful thought.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, in whom Illinoisans and other citizens of the country have great confidence, has declared against making any further trade treaties with nations that have refused to pay their financial obligations to the United States.

He also points out that the only trade agreements those nations want are those made for the purpose of buying only the goods they need and placing almost prohibitive tariffs against the goods they raise in sufficient amounts for themselves. Yet they want a liberal program for the exportation of their own surpluses.

Their debt repudiation to us has caused a greater amount of our economic grief and we hope Senator Lewis receives full support of his program.

Another Senator, who has been a staunch supporter of President Roosevelt, Senator Royal S. Copeland, comes out with a public statement in opposition to the proposed changes in the supreme court. He recalled that Washington said: "If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of the constitutional power be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way the constitution designates—but let there be no usurpation."

His decision to oppose the President's suggestions was strengthened by the receipt of 30,000 letters from his constituents, Senator Copeland revealed. Only a few hundred approved the proposal. The remainder expressed the belief, in which the Senator concurred, that the plan is in fact an effort to control the court, and to remove the defense which minorities have against the tyranny of majorities.

"If the President's proposal is sound now and we need a new supreme court to deal with the special problems of his administration, it would be equally logical to presume that we should need a special supreme court to deal with special problems that arise in the future," Senator Copeland declared. "If there is any justification for the pending proposal, there would be equal justification for the creation of special high courts to deal with every major problem that may arise in the future. There is no justification of the other."

Arrest Man in White Hall for Pilfering

White Hall—John Schmitt, who gave his address as Okmulgee, Okla., was arrested Saturday evening by City Marshal W. O. Culbreth, for stealing packages from cars parked on the streets. He was seen taking some bundles from the car of John Jones, of Pearl, by Ralph Newton and Albert Painter, of this city, who notified Officer Culbreth. Schmitt was taken to the county jail at Carrollton later that night, where his story of being wanted in Minnesota is being checked. He claims to have prison records in both Minnesota and Illinois. The home of R. L. Davis, on South Main street, was entered and ransacked Sunday evening, between the hours of 7:30 and 9:30. Although silverware and other articles of value were in open view, all that was missed was a small change, amount to less than a dollar. A thorough job of searching was done, even to the pictures on the wall. It is thought that entrance was made through the rear door, as a skeleton key was found in the house.

New Trial Ordered In Littler-Cowdin Auto Accident Suit

Judge Wright Accepts Verdict of Recalled Jurors, Then Orders New Trial

Declaring that their verdict was inconsistent, Judge Walter Wright in circuit court Tuesday morning accepted the verdict of the recalled jury in the Littler-Cowdin automobile accident case, and then ordered a new trial.

The jurors, who ruled on only one angle of the suit last week, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the original suit. Tuesday morning when they came back to finish their work on the suit and counter-suit. They awarded the plaintiff in the original suit damages of $50, and their action caused the judge to point out the inconsistencies of their verdict.

Last week the jurors gave Alfred Cowdin, defendant in the original suit brought by Donald Littler through his father, Hubert Littler, $750 damages resulting from a collision between automobiles driven by Donald Littler and Cowdin. The award was made on a counter-claim filed by Cowdin, in which the jurors agreed that Cowdin was exercising due care and caution in the operation of the machine he was driving, and that Littler was not guilty of negligence. The accident occurred Dec. 6, 1935.

Judge Wright pointed out in accepting the verdict of the jurors on the original suit yesterday, that their decision was contradictory. In

Centenary Church Notes
Miss Alice Larrimore has given two beautiful brass candleabra for decorating the altar. This is greatly appreciated by Centenary worshippers and adds to the worshipfulness of the sanctuary.

Severe weather with many cases of flu affected all services Sunday. This was especially true of the Sunday school. A number of officers and teachers as well as pupils were detained in their homes.

The regular worship service was given a fairly good attendance and was a most inspirational one. Rev. Blair delivered the second of his Lenten sermons. The subject was "Jesus By the River" and was a most illuminating presentation of the baptism of Jesus by John the Baptist. Effectively the choir led the congregational singing and with fine appeal. Lowell Henry sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the solo.

Wednesday at 6 p.m., pot luck supper will be served followed by the mid-week service with a church night program.

Thursday at 8:15 p.m., choir rehearsal will be held at the parsonage.

Sunday February 28 will be coal Sunday. At this service envelopes will be distributed for the regular special collection to pay the coal bill. Members and friends of Centenary are asked to keep this in mind and contribute liberally to this fund. Half of the conference year closes on this date.

Women's League Opens Third Year Drive to Bring Merit System

Public officials, political scientists, and leaders of national organizations, concerned with the improvement of public personnel through the elimination of the spoils system of appointments, will gather in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday for a national conference on "The Public Personnel Issue" arranged by the National League of Women Voters. Mrs. George Gilhorn, St. Louis, chairman of the League's personnel campaign committee, will direct program deliberations at the Palmer House, according to an announcement received here by Mrs. Hugh Beggs, chairman of the local chapter.

Twenty-one states will be represented in the conference body.

Government officials, who are especially qualified to review personnel problems, will be program participants. From the federal field, the conference will hear John G. Winant, chairman, U. S. Dramatist to Speak At Illinois College

Frederic Torrence Will Appear Here March 17 on Rambler Program

Frederic Ridgely Torrence of New York City, well-known poet and dramatist, will deliver the fifth in this year's Illinois College Rambler lecture series Wednesday, March 17.

Although his subject has not been announced, it is believed he will discuss some phase of the development of the negro drama.

Torrence himself has been a pioneer in the field of negro play production. He has not only written plays for negro actors, but organized and directed one of the first theaters in the country which employed negro casts.

Torrence began his writing career in 1903, and has been a steady, but not prolific, writer since that time. There was a long gap in his writing activities from 1907 until after the World War, and he has published infrequently since.

Since 1920, Torrence has developed into a lecturer of note. However, five years ago he forsook the lecture platform to throw himself wholeheartedly into his theater work.

The Rambler lecture constitutes one stop on a swing through the middle west which Mr. Torrence is making. Dr. Chambers of Rockford College and President Jaquith of Illinois College, arranged the western end of the tour, which includes stops at Ohio State University, Rockford College, Beloit College and Illinois College.

Talk on Dance is Given at College

Physical Education Teacher at MacMurray Speaks to Students Tuesday

Miss Helen M. Mahany, instructor in physical education at MacMurray College, presented a talk on the modern dance to the students of the college, Tuesday morning, to give a better understanding of the dance to be presented Friday evening, February 26, by Doris Humphrey and Charles Weidman, two of the greatest modern dancers of the present day.

As an introduction, Miss Mahany gave a short history of the dance, beginning with ballet dancing, which was for many centuries the art dance the dance that was taught and seen. Due to the influence of Isadora Duncan, an American who found ballet dancing to be artificial, to have no relation to the persons themselves, and to be only a taught dance made up of steps in which the movement of the body was hidden. This was a direct breaking away from the artificial ballet dancing.

About ten years ago the modern dance movement began. The modern dance differs from the natural dance in that it is independent—it does not depend upon music. Its trend is toward movement as an end in itself. There is a great degree of angularity, the use of straight lines and angles and the use of an element of distortion.

Miss Humphrey stated that the two aims of modern dancing are to use pure movement without pantomime and gesture and to build up a feeling between the audience and the dancer.

Jacksonville High Defeats Carlinville To Wind Up Schedule 38-23

Remove Quarantine To Permit I. S. D. Cagers To Enter District Tournament At Winchester

Illinois School for the Deaf, under quarantine since the first of January, will have the quarantine which has kept the basketball team idle all that time lifted long enough for the Tigers to get into the district tournament. Decision to allow the basketball team from the local institution to participate at Winchester was announced at the dinner hour last night at the school and caused an enthusiastic outburst.

Three games will open the Winchester tournament as a result of this decision. The Tigers, who will be making their debut under their new coach, Charles Marshall, will meet Chapin in the first game at 6:30 p.m.; Scottville and Winchester will tangle in the second game, at 7:45 p.m., and Modesto and Waverly will meet in the final game scheduled for nine o'clock.

Coach Marshall, who took over the Tigers following the resignation of Coach S. Robey Burns last December, has yet to see his Tigers in action against a team from outside his own school. He has been working with them diligently, however, and is hoping for the best. Illinois School for the Deaf will be hosts to the regional tournament opening here next week.

Decision Follows Conference
Decision to permit the Tigers to enter the tournament was reached at the regular weekly conference of Managing Officer D. T. Cloud with A. L. Bowen, director of the Department of Public Welfare, who ordered all state institutions placed under quarantine the first of the year in order to prevent bringing influenza and other contagious diseases into institutions.

During this time, the school has had a remarkably good health record. Dr. Cloud pointed out in the conference with Mr. Bowen yesterday, and in view of this fact, the director decided it would be advisable to participate in the tournament. There has been little sickness in the institution itself, as a result of the quarantine, placed on the school to keep diseases out rather than to prevent people from contracting diseases there.

Coach Marshall wasn't certain last night just what combination he would start against Chapin in the opening game. He has kept his varsity cage squad busy ever since the quarantine was imposed, hoping during the last three weeks particularly that the team would be permitted to resume its schedule. Prior to the quarantine, the Tigers had played seven games, and won only one.

Other Districts Open
District tournaments will open also in Greenfield, Jerseyville, and Barry in this area. Three games are listed in all of the near-by centers. Greenfield's and Jerseyville's tournaments will open at seven o'clock, a half hour later than the tournament at Winchester, and at Greenfield the host team is scheduled to perform in the second game on the schedule.

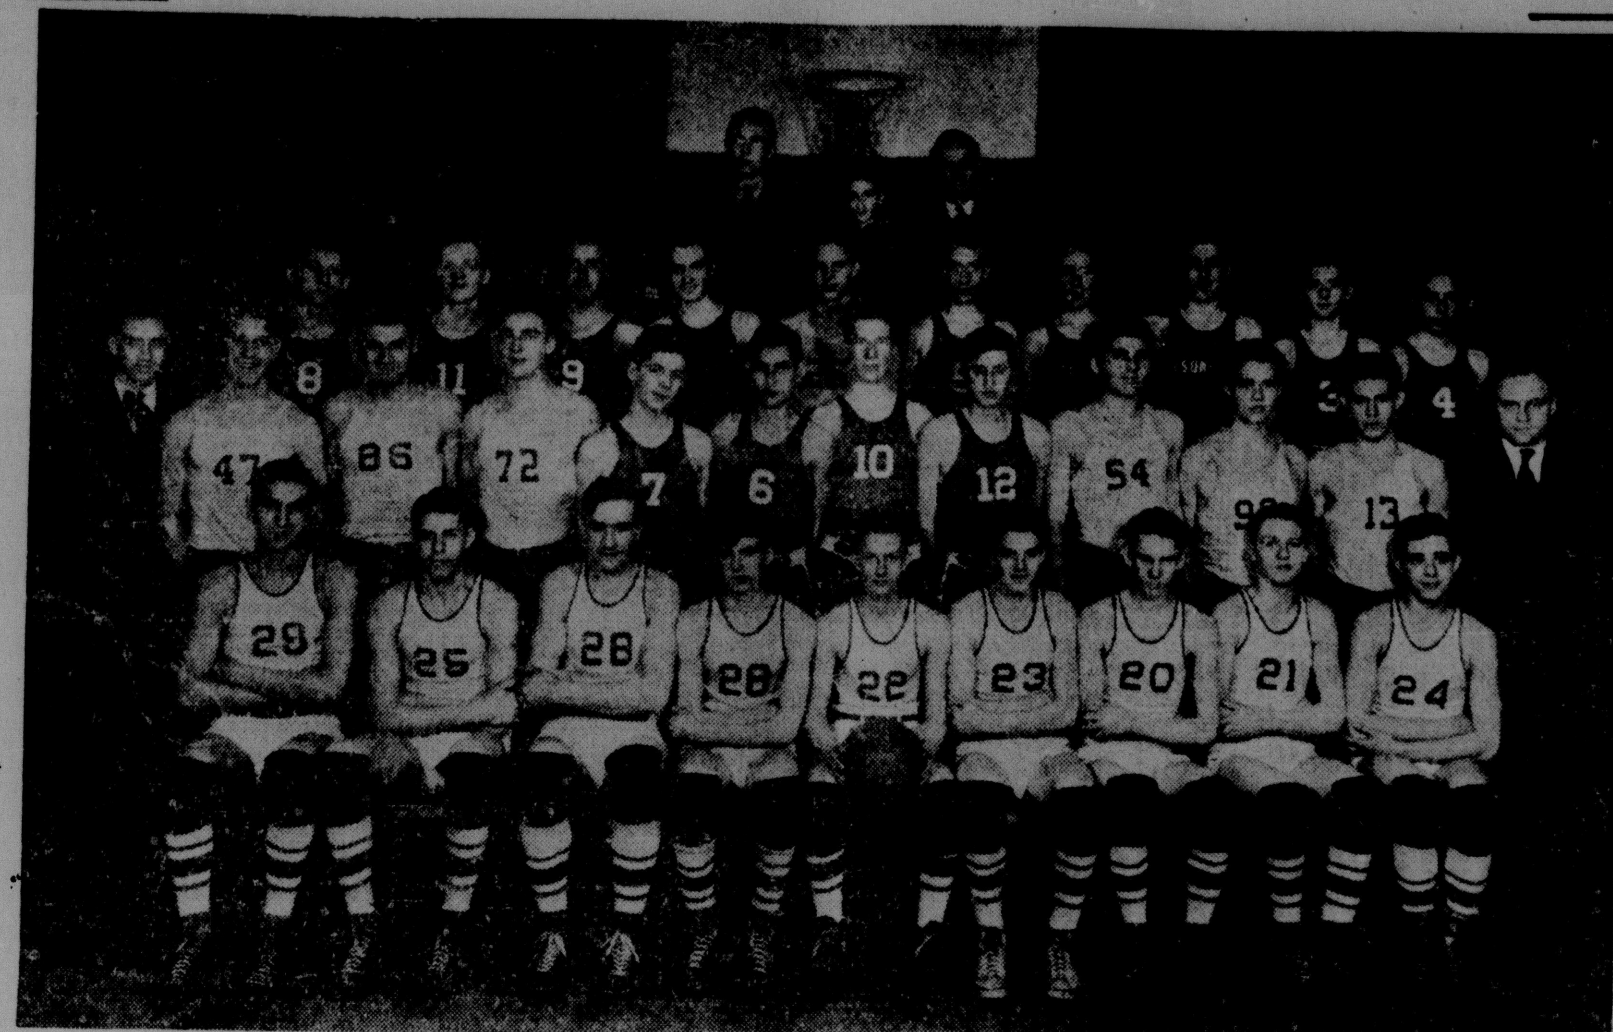

Winchester will have three games Thursday night, while Greenfield and Jerseyville will have two games each. Winners of the first two games at Winchester tonight will play the first game Thursday night, and Franklin and Virginia will meet in the second game, and Bluffs and Pleasant Plains in the third game.

Semi-finals will be played Friday night and the championship game will be played Saturday night. Winners of the semi-final game will qualify for the regional tournament to be played in Jacksonville.

Tournament Schedules:

At Winchester:
6:30 p.m.—I.S.D. vs. Chapin.
7:45 p.m.—Winchester vs. Scottville.
9:00 p.m.—Modesto vs. Waverly.
At Greenfield:
7:00 p.m.—Kampsville vs. Kane.
8:10 p.m.—Greenfield vs. Eldred.
9:20 p.m.—Rockbridge vs. Alsey.
At Jerseyville:
7:00 p.m.—Brighton vs. Troy.
8:00 p.m.—Alhambra vs. Shipman.
9:00 p.m.—Worden vs. Grafton.

White Hall and Pittsfield are assured titles in their respective divisions of the Illinois Valley conference. White Hall having only one more game ahead with Carrollton this Friday night, while Pittsfield's Indians have completed their Illinois Valley schedule and Thursday night will ring down the curtain on their Pike county conference card.

Jerseyville, which finished in second place in the southern division, lost its only conference games to White Hall. Pittsfield's lone loss came at the hands of Winchester early in the season. Winchester rang up victories over Pittsfield and Griggsville, but dropped two games to Bluffs, the only games the Blue Jays won in the conference during the year. The Blue Jays lost more one and two point decisions than any other team in the conference.

Pleasant Hill's two losses in the Ivy loop also came at the hands of Pittsfield. Pittsfield pulled two thrillers, a one point overtime decision over Griggsville and a two point decision in a game with Bluffs, out of the fire to clinch their title last week-end.

Big Week Ahead for Santa Anita Races

Los Angeles.—(AP)—It looks like a big week for the Foxcatcher Farm's stable of race horses.

Fairy Hill, the 3-year-old pride of William du Pont, Jr.'s, string, drove in to win the $50,000 added Santa Anita Derby, Rosemont, the stable's great 5-year-old, after winning the $7,500 San Antonio handicap last week-end, still looks as the horse to beat in the $100,000 classic Saturday.

Yesterday's derby, a wild scramble with twenty-one horses going to the post in the richest race in the country of its kind, saw Jockey Maurice Peters booting Fairy Hill home by a length over the Milky Way Farm's Military.

Cornelius V. Whitney's Potemkin ran third and the betting favorites were far out of the money—Mrs. W. H. Furst's Gerald Fifth and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Tedious, never a contender, thirteenth.

Forty thousand turned out for the program, betting $1,177,874 on the eight races and $163,584 on the mile and one-sixteenth derby, run in the winning time of 1:45.4.

Fairy Hill, a disappointment in previous starts, turned in a brilliant performance. His victory, worth $45,425 to the Foxcatcher stable, paid $30,800, $20,500, and $13,200 across the board. Military's place money to the Milky Way Farm, which bewailed the withdrawal two days before of Case Ace from the derby, was $10,000. Not to mention $14.80 and $1.40 to the betting fraternity. Potemkin, paying $13 to show, won $5,000 third place money.

WHAT "HUNK" IS DOING
Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—Hearty (Hunk) Anderson, Notre Dame's first contribution to the University of Michigan's football coaching staff, set speculation at rest today with the flat statement that "I'm out here to tinker with the Michigan system."

"That isn't my business," he continued. "I'm a line coach and the strategy is up to Head Coach Harry G. Kipke."

Two Red Hot Quarters Turn Back Last Foe As Crimson Dig In For Regional Tourney

Breaking out with scoring rushes in the first and third periods, Jacksonville High school basketballers closed their regular playing schedule last night on the David Prince boards by winning from Carlinville 38 to 23, after the reserves had turned back the Carlinville reserves 37 to 15 in a curtain raiser. Beardstown's Junior high squad knocked off the Morgan county champions, David Prince, in another curtain raiser 18 to 10.

The victory brought the Jacksonville High record to 16 victories and nine defeats for the season. They have rolled up a total of 706 points to 587 for their opponents.

Ray Abell was the high gunner for the Crimson, ripping off two long shots in the first quarter when the Crimson dashed out to a lead, and connecting with eight more points in the last half to run his total to 12 for the evening.

Meet Man-to-Man Defense
Running into a man-to-man defense one of the few times this season, the Crimson demonstrated that one of the most effective ways to get around the tightly clinging defense is to throw the ball in the mesh from a distance.

Abell started it by cracking in one. Ketter followed with another, and the first four shots the Crimson took from deep in the court resulted in buckets.

The Crimson had an eight point lead before Carlinville scored, and then they began seeing ground for a time. At the end of the first period the score stood 11 to 5.

During the second period Carlinville's agile youngsters, with Lee at the head, began cutting in on the Crimson margin. Lee pitched in eight points during the first half, and Carlinville trailed only five points, 17-12, at the end of the half.

The Crimson opened up again in the third period, racing away to a safe lead, while holding the visitors to a single point. Carlinville increased its attempts to score with a fast break, but the Crimson took advantage of Carlinville's eagerness to break from defense to offense, and worked the ball in for shorter shots than during the first two periods. They were out in front 33 to 13 at the end of the third quarter.

Reserves began coming into the game during the final period, and with about four minutes to go the entire second string entered the game.

Blueboys to Close Season With Carthage as Foes on Local Court

Illinois College's Blueboys will wind up their Little 19 conference season tonight on the Illinois School for the Deaf court with Carthage, the only team in the Little 19 aside from Wesleyan, to defeat them, as their opponents. The Blueboy yearlings also will bring the season to a close, meeting Springfield Junior College in a curtain raiser slated for seven o'clock. The feature game is expected to get underway about 8:30 p.m.

Carthage gave Illinois its first conference set-back early in the season on the Carthage court, by a 24 to 21 score. Both teams have improved rapidly since that time, and the Red-men have the stuff to give Illinois its third set-back.

The Blueboys need a victory over Carthage to finish up near the top of the heavily loaded Little 19 league. Coach LaRue Van Meter left his regulars at home last night when he took a squad down to Elmhurst, Ill., for a game with Principia college, in order to rest them for the game with Carthage.

Some of the players were somewhat banged up after the clash with Wesleyan, but Van Meter said yesterday that the regular starting line-up of Cecil Fletcher and Scheffer, forward, Laister, center, Nick Watts and Virgil Fletcher, guards, will start against Carthage.

Win At Principia
Elmhurst—Illinois College's reserves and freshman basketball team had little trouble here Tuesday night in turning back Principia college 57 to 24. Illinois led at the end of the first half 28 to 14.

Coach Van Meter started a combination of Fred May, Waddy Applebee, Scheffer, Clark and Rogers, and they stayed in the game for the first half. The freshman team of Taylor, Moxon, Bryan, Bellatti and Yates finished the game setting up a tighter defense and rolling in more points than the starting combination.

Scheffer, Yates and Bryan tied for high scoring honors, each tossing in ten points. B. S. Sapp, Principia center, led his team with 11 points.

Farmers May Apply For Crop, Seed Loan

Applications Taken Here Two Days Each Week at Farm Bureau Office

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1937 are now being received at the Morgan County Farm Bureau office on Wednesday and Saturday mornings, from 8 o'clock until noon.

These loans will be made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source, as provided by regulations issued by the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration. The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual cash needs for growing his 1937 crops or for the purchase of feed for livestock and in no instance may exceed $400.

Farmers are not eligible for these loans if they can borrow from an individual, production credit association, bank, or other concern. Emergency crop and feed loans will not be made by the Farm Credit Administration to standard rehabilitation clients of the Resettlement Administration whose current needs are provided for by Resettlement.

As in the past, the security for these loans will consist of a first lien on the crop financed if the loan is for the production of crops, and if for purchase of feed for livestock then a first lien on the livestock to be fed. Landlords, or others having an interest in the crops or the livestock to be fed will be required to waive their claims in favor of the lien to the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.

Checks in payment of the approved loans will be issued by the Regional Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office at St. Louis.

Veteran Druggist Will Retire from Business in City

J. F. Shreve Has Seen Many Changes in Pharmacy in Half Century

After 52 years as a pharmacist, Joseph F. Shreve, oldest druggist in the city, is retiring from business. Mr. Shreve is holding a sale of the stock in his store on the west side of the square. He has been in business here for more than thirty years, and a local pharmacist for 44 years.

Recalling the many changes in pharmacy during his long experience, Mr. Shreve pointed out today that most of the familiar medicines once manufactured by the local druggist from formulae, are now produced in factories and sold under brands from the shelves of drug stores.

"People used to bring us formulae," Mr. Shreve pointed out Tuesday that a batch of medicine for cough, colds and other ailments, recall one formula that came from Lynnville. We would concoct three ounces of a strong mixture, which the one bringing the formula would take home and add a pint of syrup. The result was a good cough medicine, which is now sold under a well known brand."

Mr. Shreve became a pharmacist in Philadelphia in 1885, and graduated from the College of Pharmacy in that city in 1890. He returned to this city in 1893 and was employed for several years as a drug clerk. He worked in the store of H. Lee Hatch, and with other merchants.

In 1906 Mr. Shreve and P. V. Coover went into partnership and began operating the Hockenhull drug store.

THANKS—FOURTH WARD
I wish to thank the voters of the Fourth Ward for nominating me as Republican candidate for Alderman.

ERNEST L. HOAGLAND.

Long's Pharmacy, E. Side Sq.

On the east side of the square. In 1911 Coover & Shreve bought the Hatch drug store on the west side of the square. The partnership continued until 1921, when it was dissolved and each member of the firm took a store. Mr. Shreve continued to operate the west side store, which at that time was located in the building now occupied by Russell & Thompson. In 1930 the Shreve store was moved to its present location.

Mr. Shreve expects to retire from business, and will sell out his entire stock. The sale opens this week. The store contains a large stock of drugs and other merchandise.

From 1903 to 1913, two terms, Mr. Shreve served on the State Pharmacy Examining Board. He is a member of the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association and the National Association of Retail Druggists. Last September Mr. Shreve attended the annual convention of the national body held at Pittsburgh.

Fruit, Grasshopper Meetings at Farm Bureau This Week

J. H. Bigger Will Discuss Menace to Country at Gathering Friday

Two meetings of interest to Morgan county farmers are planned for the latter part of this week to be held at the Farm Bureau. On Thursday J. V. Kelly, extension specialist on fruit from the University of Illinois, will spend the day here talking to growers of orchards and small fruits in the county. Anyone interested in horticulture is invited to consult Mr. Kelly on the methods of handling trees to secure the best results in fruit bearing.

At 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon J. H. Bigger, state entomologist, will discuss with farmers at the Farm Bureau the grasshopper menace in the county. Already there is evidence that the county will have a heavy infestation of these pests this season, unless wet weather in May and June checks the broods. The eggs have already been laid in large numbers. Farmers will be informed of the best means of destroying the eggs before they have a chance to hatch.

I wish to thank all who showed any interest in my candidacy.—Lee Stice.

Measles Rarely Spread by Indirect Contact, as Exposure Harms Virus

BY DR. MORRIS FISHEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Measles is spread mostly through direct contact of persons who have not had the disease with those who have it. The substance that carries the infection apparently is present in the secretion of the nose and of the throat.

We do not happen to know definitely the cause of measles. We do know, however, that it is infectious. This can be shown in various ways. For example, injection of the blood of a measles victim into the blood of one who does not have the disease will cause the second person to contract the disease. Moreover, nose and mouth secretions of those who have the disease may be used to produce the disease in others.

Man apparently is the only animal who ordinarily has measles, but experimental measles can be produced in monkeys. The cause of the disease probably is some substance or organism so small that it cannot be seen with even the highest powered microscope.

We know from studies made by investigators that the virus which carries measles is injured by exposure to light and sunlight. For this reason, measles seldom is carried from a sick person to another by a third person or an animal. In other words, should a visitor get some of the virus on his hands or his clothing, the virus may die during the time spent in going from one person to another. For this reason, doctors and nurses who care for measles victims may visit other patients without danger of transmitting the disease, provided reasonable precautions are taken.

Thus, it is wise to wash the hands thoroughly after visiting a patient. People who enter the sick room should put on a clean gown before entering the room and remove the gown after leaving. Dishes, bedding, and other materials used in caring for a child sick with measles should be boiled before they are again used.

There are some strange things about measles that make it different from diphtheria or scarlet fever. Few adults are likely to catch these last-named diseases, yet an adult may catch measles from a child if he has not already had the disease.

Measles is particularly virulent when it is introduced into a population in which there has been no measles for a long time. For example, one of the worst measles epidemics on record occurred in the Faroe Islands in 1846. Of the 7,800 islanders, 6,000 had the disease in six months.

In 1775, measles broke out on the Sandwich Islands. There were 150,000 people and 40,000 of them died in four months. Severity of this epidemic was due partly to the intensity with which measles attacks a population in which there is no immunity.

It has been suggested, however, that many of the deaths were due to the fact that so many people were sick at the same time that there were not enough well people to care for them. Indeed, it is said that some died of starvation, and many others from lack of any kind of care.

Death of Buchanan Elevates Taylor to Head of Committee

78 Year Old Texan Becomes Head of Powerful Appropriations Group

Washington—(AP)—The death of Rep. James P. Buchanan (D., Tex.) placed 78-year-old Rep. Edward T. Taylor (D., Colo.) today at the head of the important house appropriations committee.

The slender, gray-mustached Taylor, oldest man in the house, has been directing the committee during the heart illness which led to Buchanan's death in Naval hospital last night. Friends recalled that Buchanan spoke of Taylor in the house two years ago.

"Should anything happen to me," he said, "he would become chairman of that great committee (appropriations). x x x If that should happen the fiscal affairs of the house would be in safe keeping."

Buchanan was a critic of the administration policy of seeking "lump sum" appropriations, instead of funds allocated for specific items, but guided budget proposals through the house.

A strong believer in governmental economy, it fell to him to work for the $4,800,000 work relief measure, largest single appropriation in history, and to see national defense costs reach a new peace-time high.

He had been handicapped by failing health for the last year. He was 73 years old and had served in the house since 1913, becoming appropriations chairman in March, 1933, when the late Joseph W. Byrne was elevated to Democratic floor leader.

Friends of Taylor, whose health has not been the best, predicted he would pass some of the burden of his new post to committee associates. He tells colleagues, however, that "they make them tough" in the Rockies.

Born in Metamora, Ill., he did not enter congress until he was past 50, although he has been in public service as teacher, prosecutor and state legislator for many years.

Demand to End Arms Race Seen in Talk Of U.S. Ambassador

Paris—(AP)—Ambassador William C. Bullitt was considered in informed circles today to have placed the United States, with President Roosevelt's approval, beside France and Great Britain in demanding a halt to the world armament race.

Bullitt's speech last night at a Washington birthday banquet was interpreted by usually well-informed diplomatic sources as a virtual indication by President Roosevelt of a new international policy as a result of Germany's rejection of French and British overtures of economic peace.

Such a proposal, bringing the United States into the European settlement, would be based on a strictly enforced agreement with the reich, these reports said, for collaboration in a general arms limitation program and lowering of trade barriers to consolidate peace.

The ambassador predicated his remarks with the statement the United States may have to fight in the next war.

"We are entirely aware," the ambassador said, "that there is always some possibility some nation might be sufficiently reckless to drive us into war."

Doubleheader Sit- Down Strike Ended

Detroit—(AP)—One of the strangest industrial disputes in history—a joint sit-down of capital and labor—ended today with the announced settlement of a four-day strike at the Fry Products, Inc., which manufactures automobile seat covers.

A volunteer mediator, Alfred R. Glancy, former president of the Oakland Motor Car Company and one-time vice-president of General Motors Corporation, said:

"The strike was settled at midnight after a four-hour discussion with representatives of the company's employees."

"We will not mention the terms of the settlement."

"All we have to say is that it has been amicably settled by both parties and work will be resumed at 8 o'clock Thursday morning."

"All parties have agreed to refrain from making any further statements or discuss the terms of the settlement."

President Walter L. Fry, who became the nation's No. 1 Boss sit-downer in retaliation for a strike of his employees last Friday, tumbled onto his cot in his office to get some sleep immediately after the settlement was announced.

Fry declined to answer any questions, but Glancy said the company president would end his strike and leave the plant later in the day. Some of the 110 employees who participated in the sit-down already have left the premises, Glancy said, and the rest would leave during the day.

Livestock Shippers' Meeting in Jersey

Forty Members of Group Attend; Director is Re-elected

Jerseyville.—The Jersey County Shipping Association held their annual business meeting Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church in Jerseyville. At that time Lloyd Day was re-elected director of the group.

The hold-over members of the Board are: R. L. Downey, Fred Schultz, Joseph Heitzig, Carl Hutchens, Clarence Weighard and Sherman Fritz. The present officers are R. L. Downey, President; Carl Hutchens, Vice-president; and Lloyd Day, Secretary. The Board will hold an organization meeting at a later date and officers for 1937 will be chosen at that time.

About forty members of the association attended the session Saturday. Oscar White, Superintendent of the Sheep Department of the Illinois Producers Association was the speaker of the afternoon. In his talk, White emphasized the value of service rendered as the principal reason for the continuation of the shipping association.

Jersey County has one of the most active groups in the state, according to Superintendent White, and Morgan County is the most outstanding organization.

A. S. Baty

Funeral services for Arthur Saxton Baty were held at the Elsie church Monday, February 22nd at two o'clock in the afternoon with Rev. Charles Miller of O'Fallon officiating. The body was shipped to Philadelphia, Pa., Tuesday and interment will take place there.

Mr. Baty died at his home in Elsie Township Sunday, February 21st following a short illness of pneumonia. At the time of his death he was sixty-eight years, two months and twenty-two days of age.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Mary Baty and one son. He has been a resident of the Elsie locality for the past five years and has been engaged in the insurance business.

Funeral for Infant

Funeral services were held at the Kane Baptist church, Monday, February 22nd, at two-thirty p. m. for Roger Earl East, six months old son of Spencer and Alice Fritsch East.

The child's death occurred Saturday morning at eleven-thirty o'clock following a short illness of pneumonia. Rev. Milo Moore officiated at the service Monday afternoon, and interment was in the Kane cemetery.

The child is survived by his parents; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fritsch; his great-grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Hezel of Kane, and two great-grandfathers, George Deeds of Jerseyville and William P. Grizzle of Rockbridge.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

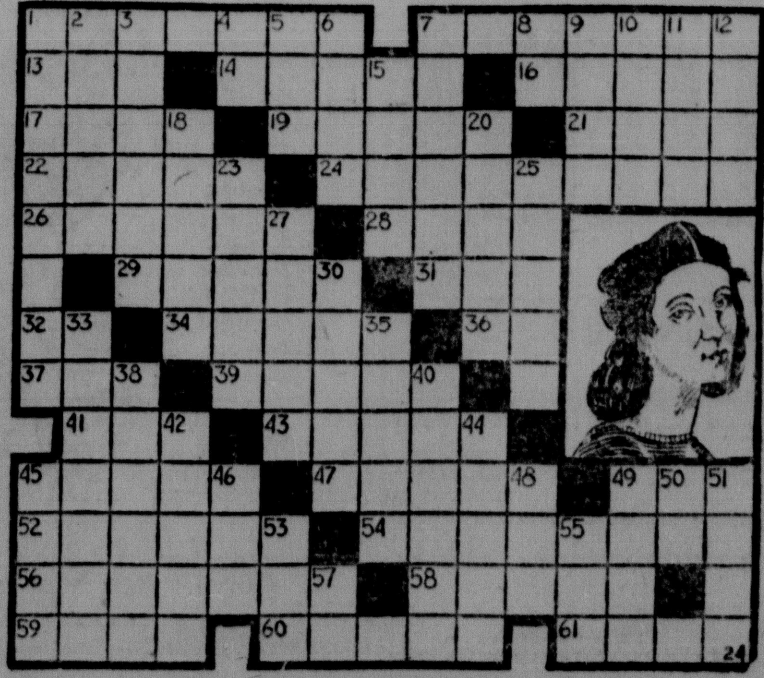

SEVERAL HUNDRED YEARS AGO, CERTAIN CHRONOLOGERS TRIED TO REFORM THE METHOD OF RECKONING TIME BY INSERTING A YEAR A.D. 0, BETWEEN THE YEAR 1 B.C. AND THE YEAR A.D. 1, BUT NOTHING EVER CAME OF IT.

IN 1900, there was considerable discussion as to whether that year was the last of the 19th century, or the beginning of the 20th. However, since there was no intervening year "zero" between A.D. 1 and 1 B.C., it follows that the first century ended with the completion of the year A.D. 100, and the 19th century ended with the completion of 1900.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Investigating the murder of BOLITHO BLANE, British financier, aboard CARLTON ROCKS AVENUE yacht, Detective Officer KETTERING runs into a maze of conflicting clues.

As the investigation progresses he charts the possible motives for each of the suspects. Among them: REGINALD JOCELYN, nurse, so far as known; COUNT POSODINI, grudge; positive, against Blane; ROCKSAVAGE, strong motive of financial gain; BISHOP OF RUDE, strong motive since Blane knew of his unsavory past.

LADY WELTER, strong motive of financial gain; REGINALD JOCELYN, strong motive of financial gain; MISS ROCKSAVAGE, none, apparently. Only the ship's crew and NICHOLAS STODART, Blane's secretary, are ruled out conclusively.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

THE Hon. Mrs. Jocelyn had only just left when Lady Welter's maid, Mildred Short, appeared at the door of the writing room and asked if she might have a word with me. She was very nervous, but, after a little, I got her to tell me her trouble and, from a big wick bag which she was carrying, she produced a pale blue knitted jumper. In the middle of the back of the jumper there was a large burn where it had been singed with a hot iron and, after some persuasion, Mildred Short made the following statement about it.

VOLUNTARY STATEMENT BY MILDRED SHORT, 9-1-37.

As previously stated, when I went to Lady Welter's cabin at about 7:10, this jumper still lacked one sleeve. When I returned to her ladyship's cabin to tidy it at 8:30, the jumper was lying on the table finished, and I knew that her ladyship had left it there for me to take below and press. Later that evening I proceeded to do so but I was called away and, most unfortunately, left the electric iron on it. This resulted in a large burn in the middle of the back which I could not possibly disguise, and I became most desperately worried in consequence.

In my fright I decided to say nothing and, if she asked me about it later on, to pretend that it had got lost. With all the to do about the murder on the following day her ladyship never said anything about the jumper and I was beginning to hope that she had forgotten all about it, until Then Lady Welter's maid appeared, testifies, and corroborates previous testimony which tends to account for Lady Welter's conduct. Previously ROCKSAVAGE, Mrs. Jocelyn and COUNT POSODINI had offered me evidence of a sly proof of their innocence.

Next FERRI ROCKSAVAGE is called for re-examination and under pressure she admits that she spent almost an hour with the iron in her cabin, which time would cover the period of the crime. This tends to clear up the mystery of the murder. Thus only ROCKSAVAGE and the Bishop remain as likely suspects.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXIV

AFTER my third examination of Miss Ferri Rocksaavage it occurred to me that the letter Hayashi alleged he had been writing might have been posted and would then still be in the postbag as, in the course of routine, I had given instructions on the morning of the 8th that no letters were to be sent ashore. This turned out to be the case, and I had the letter translated by the yacht's second cook, who is a Japanese. He attests that the original could not have been written in less than eight minutes, leaving Hayashi only 12 minutes to change. His story, therefore, appears to be true.

The lounge steward, Cane, confirms the fact that the supply of ship's notepaper in the writing room ran out early in the afternoon before Hayashi came on board, and that he could not refill the racks until the chief steward, who had the keys of the store room, got back from his trip ashore.

He further states that Hayashi handed him the letter for posting on arriving in the lounge at 8:15. It is obvious, therefore, that Hayashi could not have procured the paper earlier or written the letter at any other time than that appearing in his statement.

The cabin steward, Ringbottom, also confirms that Hayashi was still unchanged when he brought him the supply of ship's notepaper at 7:55.

Attested translation herewith.
S. Y. GOLDEN GULL.
At sea, 9-1-37.

My dear Kashima,
As you know, instructions were given by Shikoku to do the business either with Mr. Rocksaavage or with Mr. Blane. Shikoku refused to offer you anything. Therefore any compensation you may receive will have to come out of my own money. It depends on the fee which will be paid to me by Mr. Blane or Mr. Rocksaavage.

I understand that Rocksaavage will agree to a loan of ten million dollars, and I may expect one million dollars for my share. I told them that this was the lowest you would accept.

My expenses have been considerable, and I am therefore suggesting that we divide this amount between us, and on that understanding I am proceeding with the matter.

(Signed) INOSUKE HAYASHI.
Witnessed: KEYS KETTERING, Detective Officer, Florida Police.

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAMES'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S THIRD EXAMINATION OF THE BISHOP OF RUDE.

K: Come in, Bishop. Have you thought of anything since this morning which might show us how you were occupying yourself between 7:05 and 8 on the night of Blane's death?

B: No. I wish I could, but I can't think of anything.

K: What time did Blane come to your cabin?

B: Blane?

K: Yes, Blane. It's no good denying it. I've got the goods on you. Just a little thing that happened to be in your wastepaper basket. See, it's a book match with "Adlon-Claridge" on it, the New York hotel from which Blane wrote you a few days back. Nobody except Blane could have left it where we found it, and it proves that he came on board, he went along to see you in your cabin. Now, what have you got to say?

B: But Officer—I—I—
K: I want the truth. What time did Blane come along to you?

B: Oh dear, oh dear. This is terrible. Quite terrible.
K: What time did he come I say?

B: Only a few minutes after the ship sailed. I hadn't been in my cabin more than three minutes when he came in.

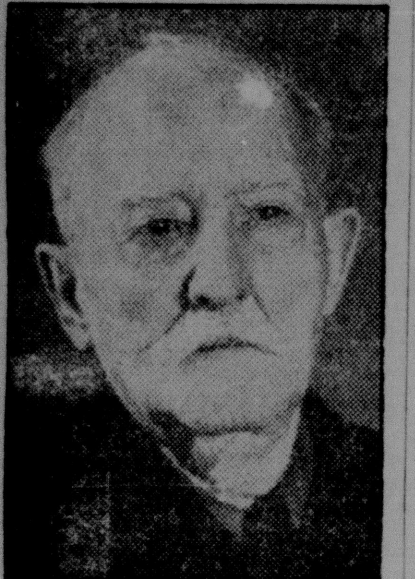

K: How long did he stay?

Body Taken to Greenfield Where Funeral Will Be Held at 2:30 Today

Charles Wesley Boring, 91 years old, who saw service as a drummer boy in the civil war, and later served as a full-fledged union soldier, died yesterday at the home of his son, Joseph Boring, 1030 West State street.

Born Jan. 21, 1846 at Bath, Mass. county, he was a son of John and Susan Dunsforth Boring. His parents died when he was a child and he was reared in the Joel Edwards home until he was 16 years old, when he enlisted as a drummer boy in Company 4, 32nd Illinois Volunteer Infantry, the company first going from Greenfield to Camp Butler at Springfield.

Among the engagements he served in were the battle of Shiloh, the siege of Corinth, the siege of Vicksburg, being present when this important city was surrendered; the Kenesaw Mountain engagements, and was with General Sherman on his march to the sea. Mr. Boring was mustered out of service at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, following the signing of the Texas peace, about 1867.

Mr. Boring retained vivid memories of many of the memorable engagements of the war. Until his eyesight left him in 1922, he was actively engaged in his trade.

He kept a pair of drum sticks he used as a boy in the war, and often tapped an imaginary battle tune on a chair or other objects in his room.

Surviving are his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Boring, and one granddaughter, Miss Louise Boring, of this city.

Dramatic Club of H.S. Presents Play

"The Traitor" Is Given at Assembly Period of Local School

"The Traitor," a tense, one-act play of military honor and betrayal, written by Percival Z. Wilde, was presented by the members of the Dramatic club. The scene is laid in British military camp during the Boer war. The stage was impressively lighted by means of candles, showing dimly the rude furnishings of the headquarters and the figures of the characters.

The officer in charge, has found out that one of the men has betrayed military secrets to the enemy, and he has formed a plan to discover the guilty one. He calls his group of eight men and tells them that one among them is a traitor. He states that the guilty one has been caught and has admitted telling military secrets to the enemy under severe torture.

This man is then brought in, and he finally admits his guilt, pleading for mercy. All but one of the others, however, ask for the death of the traitor. The one who disagrees says that it is not right to kill the man and that any of the others would have done the same thing under similar circumstances.

The chief officer then discloses that the admission of the supposed guilty soldier was planned in order to get the reaction of the others. The real traitor would want to be merciful to the suspect whereas the rest would desire death. In this way, the actual traitor is caught.

Ellsworth Black gave a fine performance as the officer in charge. His dignified military bearing coupled with a fine sense of understanding was well portrayed. Joe Bagale was extremely good in the dramatic role of the "acting" traitor. His wealth of former experience in J. H. S. productions was evidenced in his well-rounded performance. Charles Thompson Jr. contributed some of the best minutes of the play as the real traitor. Other soldiers, all of them added a great deal to the production, were Curtis Engelman, Warren McMaster, John Newberry, and Don Oxley, and Bob Hermann. Miss Frances Brown was the director.

Horror Is Victor In Wood-chopping Contest Tuesday

Servers Log in Two Minutes, 17 1/2 Seconds; Frank Rolf In Second Place

Herman Horror of Rural Route 4, Jacksonville combined skill and elbow-grease yesterday to capture first honors in a wood-chopping contest, held in connection with a woodlot management demonstration at the L. C. Hess farm, southeast of Concord. Sixty men witnessed the exhibition.

Making the chips fly fast and furious from a 10 inch log, Horror severed the log in 2 minutes, 17 and 7/10 seconds. He used a 4 pound single bit axe.

Frank Rolf of Rural Route 4, Jacksonville, captured second honors by cutting through the same log in 2 minutes, 54 and 4/10 seconds.

Roscoe Goodpasture of Chapin took third by cutting through the log in 3 minutes, 33 1/2 seconds.

L. C. Hess on whose property the contest was held, chopped out the fourth prize in 3 minutes, 40 and 5/10 seconds.

Howard Hess, who was not able to chop quite fast enough to get into the prize division, was awarded a prize for guessing the closest of anyone the time required for the winner to cut through the 10 inch red elm log.

The winners of the meet will be entered in the state chopping contest to be held during the next Farm and Home week at the University of Illinois.

Prizes for the contest were contributed by a number of hardware firms of this city and Arenzville.

Speaks on Forestry
The woodlot management demonstration was held under the direction of W. P. Coolidge, Morgan County Farm Adviser, in cooperation with Morgan County Soil Conservation Association, Soil Conservation Service, and the Extension Service. A quarter acre plot has been laid out on which permanent records will be kept of growth and yield.

In December, 1936, this plot was studied and marked by J. E. Davis, State Extension Forester, and a record kept of the trees to be left as well as those to be taken. This work was then done by the Soil Conservation Service under the direction of Clyde Taylor, Acting Camp Forester. One and one quarter cords of fuel wood and four white oak posts were cut from the trees which were removed. This is equivalent to 1.6 cords of material cut from the plot. Double this amount was left. Cutting was aimed to remove large topped and diseased trees and to thin the stand. Many trees were dying because of crowding.

H. B. O'Donnell, Assistant Extension Forester, was introduced by Farm Adviser Coolidge. Mr. O'Donnell brought out in his discussion that abuse of Illinois timber lands indiscriminate grazing and burning has so materially reduced productivity of the woodlands that there are 4,000,000 acres of timber supported 1200 wood-using factories in 1909, 3,000,000 acres now support only 300 factories. One fourth of the area in Morgan county should be or is in timber. These 85,000 acres themselves should be a considerable source of income to Morgan county farmers. The Extension Service is attempting to increase the acreage of managed woodlots and to encourage the planting back to timber of land subject to destructive erosion.

The Extension Service has prepared a list of wood-using industries which buy forest products, and is hoping to organize cooperatives for marketing woodlot products.

Mr. O'Donnell pointed out that one of the first steps in woodland management, 100% protection from grazing and fire; and that 1937 conservation practice payments; $7.50 per acre for planting and protection of trees, and $2.50 per acre for improving a stand of forest trees provided such area is not grazed and that the county committee approval is obtained in advance.

LeBeau losing in a three way battle.

Candidates nominated without opposition include Robert Keating, Republican, and City Clerk John R. Phillips, who won re-election. Keating received 2,012 votes while Phillips total was 1,375 in the city clerk nomination.

Carl Hamilton, former city treasurer, and a candidate for that position on the Republican ticket, received 1,771 votes. Miss Marie Finney received the Democratic nomination altho her name was not on the primary election ballots. Miss Finney received 347 votes.

In the first ward Republican nominees Green and Schneider are opposed by Alderman John Early and James J. Flynn, Democrats, who were unopposed in yesterday's election. Early received 156 votes in the three precincts of the ward and Flynn's total was 233.

In Second Ward.
In the second ward Joseph E. Darush was nominated with 447 votes given by Republican voters and Walter Huff, former Republican candidate, was named as his running mate in aldermanic contests.

Huff's name did not appear on the primary election ballots, but his name was written on the ballots to give him 176 votes. Darush and Huff will be opposed by the Democratic nominees Ralph Cowgur and Bert Smith, who received 270 and 168 votes respectively.

Alderman Ray Harmon and T. C. Chumley are the Democratic aldermanic nominees in the third ward. Harmon received 345 votes and Chumley's total was 325. They will be opposed by Little and Nance on the Republican ticket.

In the fourth ward aldermanic contest the two Republican nominees, Franklin and Hoagland will be opposed by the two Democratic nominees, Weaver and Smith.

As had been predicted the primary contest was a quiet affair, the votes cast being several hundred less than the total number of ballots dropped into the boxes at the 14 city polls two years ago. While there were five candidates seeking the G. O. P. mayor's nomination their combined vote was less than the number cast for Blackburn and former Mayor W. A. Wainwright two years ago.

And the Democratic contest was even more quiet with the vote cast yesterday totalling less than one-half the number of votes cast at the 1935 primary contest.

The city election will be held here Tuesday, April 20.
